

Examining the State Budget

2023 Virtual Event Series Information

The New Hampshire Fiscal Policy Institute's Virtual Series, "Examining the State Budget," will explore the Governor's, House Finance Committee's, and Senate's budget proposals. All virtual events will include a presentation led by NHFPI Research Director Phil Sletten and an audience Q&A. Participation is free and open to the public thanks to the support of event sponsors.

Unpacking the Governor's Proposal

Friday, February 24, 10:30am to 12:00pm

On February 14th, the Governor presented his budget proposal to the New Hampshire Legislature. This budget contains his public policy priorities over the next two years and begins the Legislative Phase of the State Budget. This webinar will examine what we know so far about the Governor's budget proposal for State Fiscal Years 2024 and 2025.

Understanding the House Finance Committee's Proposal

Tuesday, April 4, 10:30am to 12:00pm

The House Finance Committee has been working to understand and plan modifications to the Governor's State Budget proposal since it was released. The House Finance Committee's version of the State Budget will go before the entire House for amendments and a vote. This webinar will delve into the House Finance Committee's proposal, including key changes relative to the Governor's proposal and to the State's current operating budget.

Reviewing the Senate's Proposal

Monday, June 12, 10:30am to 12:00pm

The Senate's version of the State Budget, produced by the Senate Finance Committee before going to the full Senate for any final amendments and a vote, will be heading to a Committee of Conference with members of the House of Representatives. The Committee of Conference will work to produce a final version of the State Budget to present to both the House and the Senate. This webinar will unpack key differences between the House's and Senate's proposals, and include comparisons to the Governor's proposal and the State's current operating budget.
